THE FOUNDATIONS

Build muscle through quality training, fuel and recovery.

THE 5 RULES OF PROGRESS

01 Master the movement

Use a controlled range of motion and a weight you can handle with good technique.

02 Add challenge gradually

When all sets feel controlled at the top of the rep range, add a small amount of weight.

03 Train each muscle consistently

A repeatable weekly plan beats random workouts and constant program changes.

04 Recover between sessions

Sleep, rest days and easier training when needed support adaptation.

05 Eat enough balanced meals

Include protein-rich foods, carbohydrates, fats, fruits and vegetables.

MOTIVATION

Discipline is built one quality rep at a time.

4-DAY TRAINING SPLIT

A balanced weekly structure with rest between hard sessions.

WEEKLY SCHEDULE

MON	UPPER A / STRENGTH
TUE	LOWER A / STRENGTH
WED	REST OR EASY MOVEMENT
THU	UPPER B / MUSCLE
FRI	REST OR EASY MOVEMENT
SAT	LOWER B / MUSCLE
SUN	REST / RECOVERY

HOW TO USE THE PLAN

Warm up with 5-10 minutes of easy movement, then practice lighter sets before your first demanding lift. Rest about 2-3 minutes after heavy compound sets and 60-120 seconds after lighter accessories.

Choose a load that leaves about 1-3 good reps in reserve. Beginners can start with fewer sets and increase gradually. Swap exercises for pain-free alternatives when necessary.

REMEMBER

Good form first. Heavy weights later.
